Immigrant and Refugee Mental Health Course - Health Service Providers Stream

(May 5 – June 16, 2025)

This continuing professional development activity was held under the auspices of Continuing Professional Development, Temerty Faculty of Medicine, University of Toronto and the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH).

The Immigrant and Refugee Mental Health Project's online course offers evidence-based information for you to provide care and support to immigrants and refugees arriving in Canada. The course provides an overview on the social determinants of health and its impact on mental health. It emphasizes the role of the migration trajectory when addressing the mental health of immigrant and refugees, while highlighting the specific needs of sub-populations. It is designed to build your capacity in providing equitable access to support and treatment, while stressing the necessity of partnerships among sectors.
